Hearings on Air Strike Bill Begun

By WALTER R. MEARS
WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate hearing on legislation to halt the 19-day airline strike was postponed today for 24 hours.

The Senate Labor Committee agreed to the delay sought by Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz.

One senator said he thought the request originated at the White House.

Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., said Wirtz relayed to the committee a request for postponement to give the administration more time to prepare its case.

The committee agreed to the one-day delay, until 1:30 p.m. Wednesday, little more than an hour before it was to have taken testimony on the impact of the walkout which had grounded five major airlines.

Delay had been indicated earlier by Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., an advocate of fast action.

The hearing had been set to take administration testimony on the impact of the strike. That would pave the way for a decision on whether the strike constitutes an emergency warranting congressional intervention.

In advance of the indication of delay, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said he believes the stoppage has created a national emergency requiring congressional intervention.

Bob Lewis, Washington, D.C., junior, averaged 27.4 points a game for North Carolina's basketball team last season.

Ah, the Letters Man Dreams of But Does Not Get, Sighs Hal

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Letters people would like to get but rarely do:

"I assigned my high school chemistry students the task of making an experiment on their own. Your smart aleck son Sam, who was flunking the course, decided he'd grow hair on a hard-boiled egg. Well, to my amazement, he did it. Strictly between us, if his mixture works on people as well as it does on eggs, there may be millions in it as a cure for baldness. I wonder if you and I couldn't get together, form a quiet corporation with Sam and—"

"Bascomb, I certainly have lived to rue the day I turned you down and married Roscoe instead. After losing one job after another, Roscoe found steady employment as a carnival barker and then — JUST OUR LUCK — came down with a bad case of Bronchitis this summer. We are really on our uppers, and I'd appreciate it if, for old times' sake, you could lend us $25 until our ship comes in again."

"We at the Internal Revenue Service were deeply impressed by the clarity and brevity of your 1965 tax return. Would you be interested in helping us create a simpler tax form and also address a series of taxpayers' clinics we plan next spring? There would be a consultant's fee of $100 a day, plus a flat allowance of —"

"Jim, I'm sure the board would have a hard time deciding which of us to make the new president of the firm when they meet next month. Well, pal, I'm leaving the field wide open for you. I and my secretary, Maude, are tired of the big business rat race, so we are going to run away and start a little chicken ranch out in Nebraska. If my fat bossy wife asks you where I went, tell her Florida or Timbuktu."

"Daddy dear, I guess you won't have to borrow that money from the bank to send me on my educational trip to France when summer camp ends next week. As counselor I had to teach my kids how to make Indian arrowheads. Well, one of my brats hid an arrowhead under the blanket on my cot and I sat down on it and — well, I guess I'll postpone going to France until next year."

"And as Mabel is going to have our seventh child soon, we won't be able to bring the family for our annual visit. Sure hate to disappoint you, but know you'll understand that under the circumstances. What with the twins, Ned and Nadine, still down with the measles, that it would be better if —"

"So Lyndon and I just picked your names at random to fill out the guest list. You all be sure and come, now hear? Don't buy anything fancy to wear. Tell your husband in particular not to go and get all duded up, because after the church ceremony Lyndon would like his help in cooking up a real old-fashioned, finger-lickin' Texas barbecue in the White House back yard."

BEARING UP under the strain of keeping a giant ship on course seems to be no problem for "Topsy," mascot of the new Soviet ocean liner Pushkin. His activities on board actually don't go this far, but he is allowed pretty much the run of the ship that recently began North Atlantic service between Soviet and Canadian ports. He was a gift from the Moscow Zoo.

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The general manager of Strickland Transportation Co. Inc. said today that more than 100 members of Teamsters Union Local 878 stopped work today.

B. D. Reynolds declined comment on the case of the work stoppage, but said it affected only truck drivers on the firm's city dock.

He said that some 500 other employees were still at work.

Army Irked by Letters to VIPs

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—More and more soldiers anxious to serve in South Viet Nam have been writing to President Johnson and congressmen asking for help.

This annoys the Army. So it has put out the word which says, in effect: "Go through channels."

The Army's irritation shows through in a "personnel letter" distributed this month.

It says: "In recent weeks, there has been a considerable increase in correspondence from soldiers who claim to have volunteered for Viet Nam."

"Many of these letters are to the President and members of Congress."

"The tone of most of these letters is 'I have volunteered and haven't heard a n y thing. Please take action to send me there.'"

It appears, the personnel letter said, that "many soldiers do not realize that VIP correspondence will not expedite nor provide preferential action on volunteer applications, and that such correspondence cannot be used in lieu of a formal application submitted through channels."

The Army letter added that "it is rare indeed for a congressman or other person in authority to ask for anything more than an explanation and/or information upon which to base a reply."

In what sounded like a mild rebuke to commanders, the personnel letter instructed these troops leaders to publicize procedures for volunteering for Viet Nam.

It said: "Soldiers should be informed that the number of volunteers in many specialties exceeds requirements and that delay in assignment to Viet Nam can be anticipated in some specialties. "Soldiers should be advised that applications are processed through channels as expeditiously as possible and are acted upon as vacancies occur in Viet Nam."

A PUSHOVER at the checkout counter is a new shopping cart developed for supermarkets. Made of a tough, lightweight, stainproof plastic that resists dents, it weighs only 22 pounds, half the weight of the familiar steel carts. At the counter, made of the same material, the cart is tipped up by hydraulic lift to speed unloading.

80,000 in Park Hear Bernstein

NEW YORK (AP)— They came pushing baby carriages, dragging blankets, tugging at recalcitrant dogs — 80,000 of them to hear Leonard Bernstein conduct the New York Philharmonic in Central Park Tuesday night.

The attendance figure at the free concert topped last summer's high of 73,500, according to police, and probably represented the largest crowd in history to attend a symphonic performance.

The concert was the first of 12 the orchestra will give this summer in city parks.

Dave Rowe, senior tackle at Penn State, is the tallest man on the squad. He's 6-foot-6 and weighs 260 pounds. He's from Willingboro, N.J.

IS WORRY OVER NUDITY UNFOUNDED?

Dear Helen: I'm a man of 25, and I like to look at women. What man doesn't? But these new fads of one-eighth clothes and seven-eighths bareness — and that is not including swim suits which are about one part cover to 20 parts skin — they're in bad taste. And very dangerous!

People wonder why there are so many more attacks on women these days. Because men can take just so much of seeing this nudity and then they go berserk.

There ought to be a law that women should be modestly clothed in public, and that means on public beaches and around apartment house pools too. They should keep covered. The Grampy dresses were a good idea!

After all, if they're going to run around next to nude, why be married? Another thing that increases criminal assaults on women and girls are these girly magazines with their nude pictures.

Helen, you being a woman, what is your viewpoint? Don't you think the sexy way you females wear tight shorts and skirts and Bikinis increases this kind of crime? — Concerned Viewer

Dear Con: I've heard this line so much I'm tired of it.

While I'm not overly fond of the nude look — miniskirts prove a girl's worst feature is her knee, and Bikinis are too darn truthful — I'll fight anyone who tells girls they must dress in Mother Hubbards and paint clothes on the center fold-outs to keep men from going berserk.

Face it, the normal male loves girl-watching, and a well turned curve doesn't arouse anything more criminal in him than a wishful whistle.

To censor legs and pin-up pictures because the abnormals might get ideas is like leaving the cases bare at Tiffany's because a few thieves are running loose. — H.

OPEN LETTER TO SPINSTERS

Dear Helen: This is warning to all single girls. Get married! Don't stick around to care for elderly parents. When the will is read, you'll still get only what other children get — and they have husbands to support them.

If there are any single brothers left, they'll expect you to stay on as housekeeper. Why should they marry? They have a cook and maid at a fraction of the expense. A wife would eventually quit her job to raise the family. A spinster sister can't quit work — she must pay her share. Likewise a wife can bring pres-

Priest to Be Luci's Attendant

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Rev. William J. Kaifer, who was Luci Johnson's adviser at the Georgetown University School of Nursing, will be one of three priests officiating at her Aug. 6 wedding.

Father Kaifer, a native of Baltimore and associate professor of theology at Georgetown, will join Archbishop Patrick A. O'Boyle of Washington and the Rev. John Kuzinkas of Chicago in celebrating the nuptial Mass at the Shrine of the Immaculate Conception.

Father Kuzinkas, a longtime friend of the family of bridegroom Patrick J. Nugent, will perform the wedding ceremony itself. The three priests will officiate together in what is called a "concelebrated Mass."

SUMMER SUN AND SALT and chlorinated water play havoc with the sheen and color of your hair. A preparation that conditions as it colors can prove helpful in restoring sheen and beauty to dried-out tresses. One such preparation can lighten or darken, cover gray hair or blend in with your natural color. Apply with applicator (left) on dry hair and leave on for 30 minutes. Add a little water to create a color foam, then rinse until water runs clear. Catalase mixture is then distributed evenly over the hair to lock in color. Another warm-water rinsing leaves your hair soft, tinted and ready to style. For summer evenings (right) Charles of Garrison and Ramon creates this hairstyle for soft, shining hair. The hair is brushed back and up, with eyebrow-tip bangs and easy top curls.

Television and Radio

By PAUL HENNING (For Cynthia Lowry)

EDITOR'S NOTE — Paul Henning, producer, creator and sometimes script writer, of three hit television shows — "Beverly Hillsbillies," "Petticoat Junction" and "Green Acres" — reveals the recipe for success. But it is harder to follow than to read.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Apparently I'm reputed to have some sort of "sure fire" formula for creating TV shows. Believe me, in fifteen years of trying the only thing I've found to be "sure fire" about TV shows is that nothing is sure fire!

A TV series is always a calculated gamble with the ever looming possibility that the most promising production can turn into the flop of the year when it hits the reality of a time period.

The producer of a series is up against some pretty frightening odds. Each season upwards of 200 new pilot films are made at an aggregate cost of some $50 million. Out of these, less than one-fourth find their way on the air and less than half of those stay on! That kind of mortality rate makes producing TV pilots about as risky as defusing bombs!

We're pleased that our three entries are currently enjoying audience popularity, but I'm certainly not claiming to have discovered any magic formula. True, these three shows utilize a rural-city theme, and there's a reason for that. The country scene, with its pleasant tempo, its peaceful and simple way of life which makes particularly warm and human relationships between people possible, is rapidly disappearing. As our lives become more and more automated, more and more complicated, less personal, people naturally feel a nostalgia for the serenity of the small community country life. There's a yearning for rural simplicity even by people who've never been to the country.

But a premise, no matter how interesting or appealing it is, is never enough to insure the success of a show. It's really the least important element of a number of important elements. Creating characters is an important part of hitting the series jackpot. You've got to create characters that the audience will care enough about to want to see every week.

Once you've developed the characters, you've got to cast them properly. You've got to bring them to life before the camera the way you've visualized them in your imagination.

Next get good scripts — well-paced, rich in humor and with an element of truth — and you're on your way to holding your time period.

It sounds simple enough. Will it be a hit? Well, that's another story.

Europe May Cut Imports From U.S.

By SAM DAWSON AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — U.S. exporters — and especially American farmers — have a big stake in the new farm policy hammered out by the six European Common Market nations. And the stake is how much will the price and subsidy pact cut into the sizable market American farm products now enjoy in the West European bloc.

Products ranging all the way from meat to canned fruit juices from the United States are involved.

The six European nations are a big and growing market for food. There are some 180 million consumers in France, West Germany, Italy, the Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg. The booming prosperity of these Common Market nations in recent years has raised personal incomes and consumption and upgraded tastes for new and imported foods.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture says that last year U.S. exports of farm products to the six nations came to $1.5 billion. It may well be running ahead of that rate this year.

What worries American farmers is that the new pact drafted Sunday will raise prices on many food items produced in the Common Market. And this will boost the duty of American

Foreign Aid Threatened by New Feud

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's sharp reply to Sen. J. W. Fulbright's speech questioning the President's Asian aims may harden senatorial foreign policy dissent.

If Johnson found it difficult to follow the Foreign Relations Committee chairman's reasoning — as White House press secretary Bill D. Moyers reported — Fulbright's colleagues got the point the Arkansas Democrat was making Friday in a Senate speech.

This point was that the Johnson administration appears to be heading toward the export of the Great Society to non-Communist countries in Asia while it polices that continent against aggression.

If any such doctrine is in the making, Fulbright and Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield agreed the Senate ought to be taken in on the ground floor while the construction work is going on.

Moyers' assertion that Johnson has gone out of his way "to try to involve the Senate in the development of his policies" falls short of senatorial desires. The old complaint prevails that senators always are invited to the crash landings and almost never to the takeoffs.

Fulbright made the point that statements by executive department officials have a way of growing into government commitments that Congress finds it cannot ignore or alter. He cited Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's statement that there is a "Johnson Doctrine" for Asia, presumably akin to the Monroe Doctrine for Latin America.

This gave Mansfield the opportunity to observe that he was "not aware that the vice president had taken over the presidency."

At the same time, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., cautioned against "any disposition to accept interpretations or statements by vice presidents with reference to presidential policies" as being official.

These incidents reflect an irritated mood among some senators who feel that Johnson wants only consent, and not advice, on foreign policy matters. His reaction to Fulbright's speech may stiffen that attitude. How deep this dissent goes was demonstrated when the Senate voted 51 to 31 to cut $42 million in additional funds from the administration's already riddled foreign aid bill.

Eleven of 18 senators who signed a July 15 "plea for sanity" against further escalation of the Viet Nam war supported the fund reduction.

Only six sided with the administration and one did not vote. The 11 furnished the swing margin among 32 Democrats and 19 Republicans who handed the President a setback.

Although foreign aid is more vulnerable than some other programs, the President is on notice that trouble lies ahead in the field of international policy.

Dodd Ignores Campaign Fund Charge

NEW YORK (AP) — An aide to Sen. Thomas Dodd says the Connecticut Democrat sees no reason to reply to an article contending that a Senate investigating committee has evidence that $350,000 in campaign funds he collected over a three-year period went for other purposes.

The aide said Monday there would be no response to the charge in the current issue of Newsweek magazine that Dodd took in $500,000 in campaign funds from November 1961 to March 1965 and spent only $150,000 of it for actual campaigning.

The aide suggested that Dodd thought of the money raised at testimonial dinners not so much as "campaign contributions," but more as "personal gifts."

The figures, according to Newsweek, came from records in Dodd's own files, removed by former members of the senator's staff and handed over to the Committee on Standards and Conduct.

There was evidence, the magazine said, that Dodd paid $8,500 he owed a ghost writer, a $5,500 air travel account and liquor bills at the Congressional Country Club with campaign contributions.

Sleepwalking Disorder Predominantly Male

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Sleepwalking is predominantly a male disorder. Apparently women, even in their sleep, would just rather not go — if they can't go by car or cab.

Only about one in every three paper clips is used to clip papers together. The rest are lost, twisted and thrown away, or used as makeshift screwdrivers or to clean fingernails, typewriters or pipes. In less sedate offices, of course, they are also fired with rubber bands at passing stenographers.

The foods you choose may show how smart you are. People with a high IQ are reported to have a fondness for grapefruit, celery and olives. But if they take their olives only in martinis, they're not so very smart.

Here's a statistic that may surprise you: In about half of all fatal traffic accidents only a single vehicle is involved.

No wonder it is hard to keep a cool head. Scientists have figured that to duplicate the human brain they'd have to build a machine as big as a football field and 60 stories tall. And to keep this mechanical noggin from becoming overheated, they'd require water equal to the amount that flows over Niagara Falls.

Quotable notables: "Every man past 50 who has never owned a Rolls-Royce owes it to himself to buy one" — John O'Hara.

Changing medicine: Druggists now fill more than 750 million prescriptions a year for ailing Americans. More than 70 per cent are for drug products introduced since 1950.

Small consolation: Baldness affects up to 80 per cent of men, and if you are among the nine out of 10 victims in whom it is hereditary, there isn't much hope of regaining your hair. But at least you can pin the blame on your ancestors.

Where the money is: A U.S. Census Bureau economist says that by age 64 the average doctor has earned $717,000, the average lawyer $621,000.

Folklore: It's bad luck to lend an umbrella or handkerchief. If your lip itches, it's a sign someone is speaking ill of you. You'll get warts if you wash your hands with water in which eggs have been boiled. If the bubbles on your morning coffee float toward you, you'll get money; if they float away from you, you'll lose money.

It was George Bernard Shaw who observed, "My way of joking is to tell the truth; it's the funniest joke in the world."

Army ants of the American tropics are regarded by the natives as beneficial rather than a dreaded scourge according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

STRANGE VESSEL resembling the superstructure of a giant submarine passes under a drawbridge on the Columbia River at Vancouver, Wash., en route to the open sea and Alaska. It's a section of the oil-drilling platform Trading Bay which will be stationed over a newly discovered well three miles offshore southwest of Anchorage. It was designed specifically to withstand 30-foot tides, strong currents and shifting ice encountered off the Alaskan coast.

Noted Doctor of Australia Dies

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Sir Norman McAllister Gregg, the Australian doctor who discovered that German measles during pregnancy could cause a deformed child, died today after a short illness. He was 74.
Gregg made his discovery 25 years ago. His first clues to the relationship of German measles and infant malformation came from listening to what mothers had to say about their health during pregnancy.

Ella Churns
in Toward Puerto Rico

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Ella, the season's fifth tropical storm, plodded on today in the general direction of Puerto Rico with a likelihood she will brush the northern Leeward and Virgin islands.
The U.S. Weather Bureau in San Juan, located Ella 200 miles east-northeast of San Juan.
Heavy swells and occasional thundershowers were forecast for the northern Leewards and Virgins, and residents were cautioned to listen for latest advisories.
Hurricane Dorothy, meanwhile, was centered about 500 miles west of the western Azores, moving northeastward. The hurricane posed no threat to the mainland for the next two days, forecasters said.

New Yorker
Held for Race Death

NEW YORK (AP) — Police arrested a 17-year-old Negro house painter today and charged him with the sniper slaying of an 11-year-old Negro boy during a racial outbreak in Brooklyn's East New York section last Thursday night.
Deputy police commissioner Sylvan Fox said Ernest Gallashaw, employed by a state anti-poverty program, has been charged with the homicide.
He was accused in the slaying of Eric Dean, who was buried Tuesday.

Young Dean was struck in the chest by a sniper's bullet as hundreds of persons in the racially mixed slum area battled each other and police.
Koota said the bullet that killed Dean apparently had been fired at policemen putting down the rioting.
Chief of Detectives Frederick M. Lussen said the 25-caliber gun used in the killing had not been recovered.
Gallashaw, who worked as a house painter for the New York State Program for Youths, was arrested near his home.

The GM report by Donner and Roche explained the drop saying the early part of last year's production and sales increased abnormally as a reaction to strikes.
The officials also said second-quarter earnings were affected by lower unit sales, increased construction costs, and higher costs for labor, materials, engineering and tooling.
Earnings per share for the second quarter were $1.90 compared with $2.23 a share one year ago.
The company reported net income for the first six months of $1.14 billion against $1.275 billion for the first six months of 1965. Sales were down $12 million dollars from the all-time high in the first half last year of $11.215 billion.

Race Riot in 'Frisco Is Broken Up

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP) — Nearly 60 persons, most of them Negroes, were arrested early today after three hours of rock throwing and shouting in the city's Negro district, police reported.
No injuries were reported, but some building windows were broken and several cars dented at the intersection of Baseline and Muscott streets, said San Bernardino Police Lt. Robert Mulligan.
Mulligan characterized the disturbance as "troublemaking," adding those arrested were between the ages of 18 and 21 or younger.
Seventy-five officers of the California highway patrol, San Bernardino County sheriff's department and city police controlled the disturbance without firing a shot or using tear gas, Mulligan said.

Profit for
G.M. Drops
Sharply

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors, the nation's largest manufacturing concern, has reported sharply reduced second-quarter profits. The company said lower unit sales and higher costs were to blame.
Ford Motor Co.'s six-months earnings report was due today and Chrysler Corp. will announce its figures Thursday.
GM reported a drop of almost $100 million Tuesday for the second quarter as compared with the same period last year but company officials continued to forecast "another good year."

The giant company's earnings for April, May and June were given as $546,035,382. In the second quarter of 1965 the firm reported a record $638,460,046 in earnings.

However, sales for the quarter were off only 2.7 per cent from the previous second quarter. This year's quarterly sales figure was $5.501 billion, compared with $5.657 billion in the same period last year.

GM Chairman Frederic G. Donner and President James M. Roche explained the drop saying the early part of last year's production and sales increased abnormally as a reaction to strikes.

The officials also said second-quarter earnings were affected by lower unit sales, increased construction costs, and higher costs for labor, materials, engineering and tooling.

Earnings per share for the second quarter were $1.90 compared with $2.23 a share one year ago.

The company reported net income for the first six months of $1.14 billion against $1.275 billion for the first six months of 1965. Sales were down $12 million dollars from the all-time high in the first half last year of $11.215 billion.

The GM report by Donner and Roche said first-half sales this year, although lower, were above the long-term trend. They added the worldwide sales of GM vehicles in the period exceeded all other comparable periods in 1965 and were about 32 per cent above the average for the first six months in the four years 1961-1964.

"The economy continues strong, consumer income is rising and unemployment is at a very low level," their report said. "The current outlook is for another good year for the automobile industry."

Morse Asks
Breakup of Air Strike

By WALTER R. MEARS
WASHINGTON (AP) — His bid for jet-speed action stalled, Sen. Wayne Morse posted a new timetable today and said the Senate should act Wednesday on legislation designed to halt the airlines strike.

Under a measure proposed by the Oregon Democrat, the strikers would be ordered back to work for 180 days while a mediation panel seeks a permanent settlement. If there was none after 150 days, the mediators would report the deadlock to Congress and new action could be taken.

But first, the administration will have to convince the Senate Labor Committee that the strike has created an emergency warranting congressional intervention.

The committee scheduled a hearing on the strike situation and suggested the administration send spokesmen for the Defense, Commerce, Labor and Post Office departments to discuss the impact of the walkouts. Representatives of the striking AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists and of the five struck airlines — Eastern, National, Northwest, Trans World and United — also were asked to testify.

The hearing was set for 1:30 p.m. EDT, on the 19th day of the strike which is costing the five airlines an estimated $7 million daily and their employees an estimated $1.6 million daily. The airlines say the strike has canceled 4,100 flights a day which normally carry about 154,000 passengers.

Morse said in an interview today's hearing "is to determine a question of fact: Is there an emergency to warrant emergency legislation?"

He said the answer is yes. And he added he fully expects an emergency declaration and strike-ending action.

"I am sure that the country will demand it," he said. His measure would have Congress declare that "emergency measures are essential" to end the strike in the interests of national health, safety and defense.

With negotiations stalemated and suspended, Morse said legislation now is the only way to get the airlines flying again. The talks were in recess, subject to 30-minute recall to consider proposed legislation or any other avenue to a settlement.

Widow of Oswald in Greenville

GREENVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Away from the "glass house" she wanted to leave in Dallas, the widow of Lee Harvey Oswald was in her new house here today.

Tuesday was moving day for the Kenneth Jess Porters, and they were quick to tell Dallas newsmen they were happy to leave the town where, the Warren Commission says, Mrs. Porter's former husband shot and killed President John F. Kennedy and policeman J.D. Tippit.

"How would you like living in a glass house for all the world to see?" Mrs. Marina Oswald Porter asked as she left Dallas. A few hours later, she was in Greenville, population 21,000, — about 50 miles northeast of Dallas.

Marina, her three children — two by Oswald and an infant born July 3 — and a woman friend drove up to the modest frame and brick home.

From across the street, Marina could be seen looking carefully over the neighborhood. Finally she left the small, white sedan and started walking toward the house. A news photographer raised his camera.

"Oh, no!" said Mrs. Porter. She ran into the house, leaving her children with her tall, brunette friend.

A few minutes later she sent word to newsmen that she had "nothing to say."

"Just leave me alone," she said.

Then her husband arrived. A newsman walked toward him. "I don't want to shake hands," said Porter. "I don't want to talk to you. I would appreciate it if you would just leave." He hurried into the house to join his wife.

Marina, the blonde, Russian-born woman who married Oswald when he went to Russia and then accompanied him home to Dallas County, wore a blouse and capri pants.

Porter was in his shirt sleeves in the near 100-degree temperature.

Their new home is on a side street in the southern section of this small northeast Texas cotton town. It has white asbestos siding and is trimmed in red brick. Nearby is the high school football stadium.

A few houses away lives Richard E. Porter, a Greenville fireman who is a brother of Marina's husband.

McNamara in Appeal to the NATO

P A R I S (AP) — U. S. Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara urged the North Atlantic Treaty Organization allies today to build an ever-stronger force and at the same time spread the costs more evenly. He spoke at a NATO defense ministers' meeting where plans for the next five years are being considered.
Informed sources said McNamara strongly challenged the idea heard in the United States and elsewhere that NATO forces could be reduced because the likelihood of conflict with the Soviet bloc seems to be diminishing.

"We believe a threat remains," he said, "and we believe we should meet it with an ever-stronger NATO."

Stamps Schools
U.S. Aid Is Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Office of Education moved today to terminate federal aid to 11 more school districts in four southern states, including three districts in Arkansas.
The move is being made on grounds that the districts are not complying with the desegregation requirements of the 1964 Civil Rights Act.
The Arkansas districts are Stamps, Fordyce and Marvel District No. 22.

Sentry Collar Helps
Dog Who Travels

It will come as no surprise to most dog owners to find that their pets are enthusiastic and instinctive travelers. In fact, this very joie de vivre can sometimes have some rather annoying results. A weekend in the country, a day at the seashore and before you know it, you're both fighting one of the most insidious of summertime pests — the flea.

Now, a plastic dog collar containing an exclusive insecticide which kills fleas for at least three months promises to make summertime living easier for both vacationing and stay-at-home dogs and dog owners.

Called Sergeant's Sentry Collar, the unique formulation of the collar permits slow and continued release of an odorless vapor from the insecticide imbedded in the plastic. The Sentry Collar will kill fleas anywhere on the dog's body and also helps to prevent ticks, especially in the neck area.

The Sentry Collar is made of clear plastic to blend with the dog's natural coloring and is worn in addition to his regular lead collar. For maximum protection, the collar should not be removed, except when the dog is bathed.

Tested extensively at two leading universities and field-tested on dogs of various breeds in different parts of the country, the Sentry Collar has received the Good Housekeeping Seal of Approval and has been registered with the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Monopoly

BLACK MOUNTAIN, N.C. — (NEA)—If Randy Johnson keeps his record intact, the Atlanta Falcons should have the National Football League rookie-of-the-year.
Right now, Johnson, a 6-4, 197-pound quarterback, has a monopoly on most-valuable player trophies.
The Texas A&I graduate has played in three all-star games since the end of his college career and won the MVP award in each—the Blue-Gray Game, the Senior Bowl and the All-America Game.

Baltimore Is Knocked Off by Indians

Tony Oliva is leading the league in batting, Frank Robinson has hit seven homers in the last eight games and Willie Horton is breezing along at a .500 pace for the last week.

So who's the hottest hitter in the American League?

Would you believe Bob Saverine?

Oliva rapped two hits, Robinson tagged his 29th homer and Horton had four straight hits Tuesday night but Saverine continued to set the fastest pace with three hits giving him 10 safeties in his last 15 swings.

Horton's four straight hits drove in all of Detroit's runs as the Tigers downed Chicago 3-1. Oliva drove in two runs with his 19th homer and raised his average to .331 as Minnesota defeated New York 6-3.

Robinson's 29th homer couldn't save Baltimore from a 7-4 defeat by Cleveland. Saverine helped Washington dump California 6-2. Boston rapped Kansas City 8-5 in the other AL game Tuesday night.

In the National League, New York shaded Houston 5-4. St. Louis edged Atlanta 4-3. Cincinnati downed Chicago 9-6. San Francisco beat Pittsburgh 8-3 and Los Angeles nipped Philadelphia 3-2.

Horton, with 11 hits in his last 22 swings, has raised his average 21 points from .252 to .273.

Willie doubled home Norm Cash with the tying run in the fourth and then drove in other Detroit runs with singles in the sixth and eighth.

Mickey Lolich, who went five innings, got credit for his ninth victory with Dave Wickersham finishing up.

Frank Howard and Ken McMullen drove in two runs apiece for the Senators and Saverine contributed three singles and scored twice.

Howard, batting for Willie Kirkland, delivered a two-run single in the third and McMullen tripled following hits by Ed Brinkman and Saverine in the sixth.

His 10-for-16 string has raised Saverine's average 30 points from .236 to .266.

Oliva, chasing a third straight hitting title, grabbed the batting lead with two hits against the Yankees. He ripped a two-run homer in the first and doubled in front of Don Mincher's run.

Tuesday's Stars

BATTING — Willie Horton, Tigers, lashed four straight hits and drove in all three runs as Detroit defeated the Chicago White Sox 3-1.

PITCHING — Rob Gardner, Mets, pitched four innings of hitless relief saving New York's 5-4 victory over Houston for the Mets' sixth straight triumph over the Astros.

scoring single in the seventh.

The hits lifted the Minnesota slugger's average to .331, six points better than Baltimore's Russ Snyder.

The Orioles came out on the short end of a long-ball duel with the Indians. Cleveland walked five home runs—two each by Rocky Colavito and Leon Wagner and one by Fred Whitfield—to outmuscle Baltimore.

Robinson and Luis Aparicio homered for the Orioles, who still lead Detroit by a fat 11 games.

Joey Foy ripped two homers for the Red Sox and Dennis Bennett won his first game since undergoing arm surgery.

Cheney Wins Tourney of Jaycees

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Three straight birdies and a one-under-par 71 carried Jack Cheney Jr. of North Little Rock to a win in the Arkansas Jaycee Junior Golf Tournament here Tuesday.

At the start of the final round, Cheney was tied for third behind Carroll Matthews of Pine Bluff and Bill Bowman of McGehee. His birdies on holes 6, 7 and 8 put him in the lead.

Cheney finished with a 145. Second with 74-73-147 was Jim Gabel of Fayetteville; David Matthews, also of Fayetteville, was third with 75-73-148 and Bowman won a sudden-death playoff for fourth. He and Lee Burroughs of Pine Bluff finished at 151.

The top four in the contest go to the International Jaycee Tournament at Greensboro, N.C., Aug. 7-12.

Dodgers Beat Phils to Keep Pace

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Al Ferrara mastered Beethoven and Brahms when he was 16 years old. Now, he's finally coming of age as a swinger.

Ferrara, who gave up a promising future as a concert pianist 10 years ago for baseball but failed in two previous major league trials, stroked the key hit for the second straight game Tuesday night as the Los Angeles Dodgers edged Philadelphia 3-2 and remained in the thick of the National League pennant scramble.

The husky outfielder's pinch-hit single in the ninth inning drove in the winning run, capping a two-run rally that extended the third-place Dodgers' victory string to five and left them 1 1/2 games off the pace.

San Francisco regained the league lead from Pittsburgh with an 8-3 triumph over the Pirates as Gaylord Perry recorded his 15th victory in 17 decisions.

A year ago Ferrara may have regretted his decision to pass up the concert hall for the diamond. The 6-foot-1, 203-pound muscleman was finishing out the season at Spokane after blowing his second chance to make the Dodger varsity.

But Walter Alston gave the Brooklyn strongboy another shot this spring and Ferrara hasn't disappointed the Dodger manager.

In Monday night's 6-3 victory over the Phillies he ignited a decisive three-run rally in the eighth inning with a tie-breaking single. Tuesday night's game-winning hit boosted his batting average to .290 and his RBI total to 20.

Elsewhere, St. Louis nipped Atlanta 4-3, Cincinnati outslugged Chicago 9-6 and New York shaded Houston 5-4.

In American League action Cleveland topped Baltimore 7-4, Minnesota trimmed New York 6-3, Boston overpowered Kansas City 8-5, Washington whipped California 8-2 and Detroit beat

Decision on Braves' Suit for Baseball

By JAMES R. POLK

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — The Wisconsin Supreme Court today overturned baseball's conviction on state antitrust charges and ordered a Milwaukee court to dismiss the suit.

The 4-3 decision said the State of Wisconsin was "powerless" to enforce its own antitrust law against a sport spread from coast to coast.

A federal antitrust suit has been pending since last year in U.S. District Court in Milwaukee.

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — The black-robed justices of the Wisconsin Supreme Court promised their decision today on baseball's appeal of its far-reaching antitrust conviction.

The ruling, scheduled for 10 a.m., EDT, was expected to trigger legal reverberations down to the very roots of the game.

At stake is baseball's 44-year-old immunity from enforcement of antitrust laws. At issue is whether a state court may sit in judgment of a sport that crosses state lines.

The National League and its 10 teams were convicted on the third day of the 1966 season of violating Wisconsin's antitrust law by moving the Braves to Atlanta and refusing to give Milwaukee a replacement club.

The league ignored a Milwaukee court's deadline to file plans to place an expansion team in the city in 1967 and was told it must return the Braves in mid-May. But that order was suspended while the appeal was being carried to the state's Supreme Court.

The case long has been considered likely to reach the U.S. Supreme Court, regardless of the course of today's decision.

The Boston-born Braves spent 13 years in Milwaukee before becoming the first club to bring major league baseball to the rich Southland. An economist testified during the month-long antitrust trial that the Braves' departure could cost Milwaukee as much as $18 million a year.

Milwaukee Circuit Judge Elmer W. Rolley, who found the Braves in violation of Wisconsin law April 13, had ruled before the trial that his court had jurisdiction to try baseball. A U.S. District Court in Milwaukee had refused to block the trial.

Braves attorneys had cited repeatedly a 1922 U.S. Supreme Court decision that baseball at that time was not a business. It is that shield, considered by many legal sources to be weak with age, that would be threatened should the Braves dispute eventually reach the highest court of the land.

Chicago 3-1

Jim Hart, hitless in his previous 18 trips to the plate, cracked a three-run homer in the first inning, sparking the Giants to their second straight victory over Pittsburgh.

Perry allowed seven hits, including Roberto Clemente's two-run homer, before giving way to reliever Bill Henry in the seventh. Henry and Lindy McDaniel checked the Pirates the rest of the way.

The resurgent Cardinals overcame a 3-2 deficit in the eighth on Mike Shannon's two-out, two-run homer and pulled out their eighth victory in the last nine games. Hank Aaron's 30th homer pushed the Braves ahead in the seventh before Shannon unloaded.

Deron Johnson's three-run homer climaxed a four-run uprising in the eighth, lifting the Reds past the Cubs in a game that produced six circuits. Billy Williams smashed two homers and Randy Hundley one for Chicago. Jim Coker and Tony Perez also connected for the Reds.

The Mets, who have won nine of their last 12, snapped a 4-1 tie on Ed Bressoud's run-scoring single in the sixth and held off Houston behind rookie Rob Gardner, who pitched four hitless innings in relief of winner Bob Shaw.

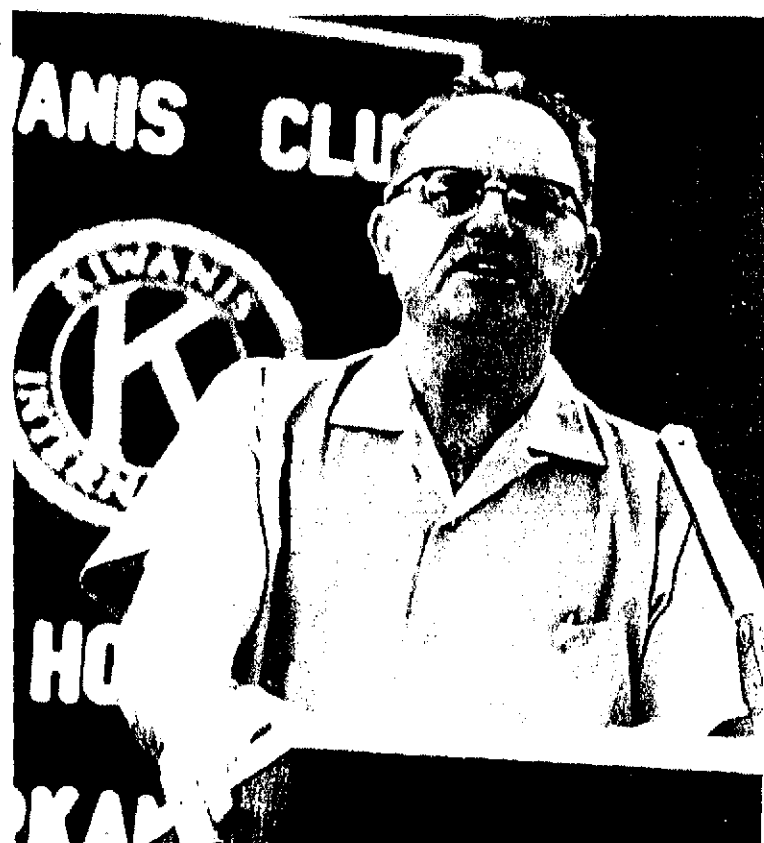

Fire Is Handy, Thief Gets Haul

NEW YORK (AP) — A man who followed firemen up an aerial ladder into a burning Bronx apartment, wasn't much help in putting out the blaze but didn't do too badly for himself, police said.

They charged Frank Maysone, 34, with stealing clock and transistor radios and a set of electric hair clippers from an apartment next to the one swept by fire.

Supervisor Elmer Brown Kiwanis Speaker

Top photo shows crowd at Kiwanis luncheon Tuesday noon in Town & Country Restaurant, and at bottom is picture of Elmer Brown, Hempstead county school supervisor, who made the luncheon address.

County School Supervisor Elmer Brown addressed Hope Kiwanis club Tuesday and his topic revolved around changes in the school system over the past 25 years.

In Hempstead county there were 25 school districts 25 years ago, but, through consolidations, today there are six districts and this will probably dwindle to four after the November election.

Today there are 412 districts in Arkansas, but after the November elections there will probably be 156 districts less, because of various consolidations.

In 1945, the assessed valuation of property in this county was about $6,500,000. In the 1965 assessed valuation was about $14,000,000. School millage was 18 mills in 1945 compared to 35 mills today.

The average Hempstead County school teacher's salary in 1945 was $1,080. Ten years later in 1955 it was $2,266. Today the average salary in this county is $4,000.

Frenchman Out to Beat Death Valley

DEATH VALLEY, Calif. (AP) — The 100-mile hike of French adventurer Jean Pierre Marquant across Death Valley entered its most torrid, trying section today — across the dry, shimmering valley floor.

Marquant, 28, who said he's hiking to prove there's still adventure in America, walked out of the rugged, dry Panamint Mountains Sunday, saying he's felling fine.

Marquant entered the hottest portion of the valley, planning to Shorty's Well through the area of salt pools and the jagged pinnacles of Devil's golf course to Furnace Creek and the sand dunes at Stove Pipe Wells.

With the first half of the hike behind him, Marquant said "I was certain I could make the first 50 miles, but as for the final half of the hike, I do not know."

So far, marquant has encountered heat ranging from 100 degrees up to 130 — with worse to come.

Pine Bluff Plant Ready in October

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Pilot operations of the Illinois Tool Works Inc. of Chicago will begin here by October, plant officials announced Monday.

The firm, which will manufacture industrial tools in a 40,000 square foot building, is already 70 per cent completed, officials said. The existence of a new firm was announced by city officials in January, but the name of the firm was withheld.

A spokesman said the firm expects to employ a full complement of 170 persons by early next year, with up to 300 persons to be employed within five years.

May Pardon 'Con' Who Saved Life

MCALISTER, Okla. (AP) — The Oklahoma Pardon and Parole board voted Monday to consider clemency for Lindell Hitchcock, 35, a prisoner who donated a kidney to save the life of a Tulsa woman.

The board agreed to consider the application at its September meeting.

In an operation at a Little Rock, Ark., hospital, Lindell gave the kidney to a Tulsa housewife who doctors said could not have lived without the transplant. Hitchcock is serving a three-year term for auto theft.

Have Seat Belts? Must Use Them

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government stressed today the importance of training motorists to buckle their seat belts.

The Public Health Service said of 1,850 Oakland, Calif., drivers interviewed during a survey, 28 per cent owned vehicles equipped with seat belts.

Two-thirds of those having seat belts used them in highway driving but only one-third used them in city driving. The service said use of seat belts could save 5,000 lives a year nationwide.

Jim asks, "Who was first to use the expression 'deep sea finesse' to cover the finesse against three or more cards at the same time?"

Oswald: "I guess I was. Or perhaps I learned it from your grandfather. He taught me how to play when I was very little older than your son, Jim O."

Jim: "I have a hand that illustrates the deep sea finesse at its best. It can gain a trick for you but can't possibly cost one."

Oswald: "Before getting around to the play of the hand I note that North makes no effort to reach a slam in spite of holding 15 high card points opposite an opening no-trump. We should point out that he is looking at a square 4-3-3-3 hand and his long suit is headed by the eight spot."

Jim: "Of course the Jacobsens don't open 18 point no-trumps but even opposite the right 18 point no-trump the North hand won't produce anything better than an even play for a slam."

Oswald: "South has three tricks and no more in each suit except diamonds. Thus, the only play in the hand will be in the diamond suit and he should attack that suit immediately."

Jim: "If diamonds break 3-2 he will lose two diamond tricks no matter how he plays it. If West holds king-queen-jack-small he will lose three tricks. His problem is to guard against all other 4-1 diamond breaks."

Oswald: "The safety play is to take two deep sea finessses. A diamond is led from dummy and the first finesse taken. If it loses you get to dummy again and repeat. If the second deep sea loses also the suit will break 3-2 and you will make your diamond tricks. Of course, if East plays an honor at any time you take your ace right away."

Kicker Star of Pros' Grid Camp

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
CARLISLE, Pa. (AP) — The little man with No. 3 on his back looks like a schoolboy lost in a forest of giants. Joe Tutgens, Jim Snowden, Fran O'Brien and the other Washington Redskins tower over the 5-foot-10, 155-pounder who might have strayed in from a high school jayvee squad.

Charlie Gogolak jogs up and down the sidelines while visitors to Dickinson College nudge one another and say, "That's the fellow who kicked all the field goals for Princeton. You know, he kicks the ball sideways."

From time to time Charlie interrupts his jogging to kick a football with that peculiar soccer-style motion. You are sure he is going to boot the ball out of bounds when he runs at it from the side but the leg comes around and the ball sails over the bar.

Charlie is a part-time performer at the Redskins' camp. He shuttles back and forth from Carlisle to the College All-Star camp at Evanston, Ill. He is available for rookie scrimmages with Philadelphia rookies and exhibition games.

Because of a slight muscle pull Charlie has had to take it easy. In his spare time he taught Otto Graham's 19-year-old son, Ducey (cq), the Hungarian soccer style. After three days of practice, Otto's son kicked a 50-yard field goal. Northwestern may be getting a new whiz when young Graham reports as a freshman end this fall.

While the 255-pounders grunt and strain in the hot summer sun, Charlie flexes his muscles and tries to look busy. It isn't easy. There are some dark looks from the other athletes, who have to knock heads for a living while Charlie collects a reported $50,000 a year for three years as the Redskins' No. 1 draftee.

"I'm insulated from the rest of the squad," said the younger of the two Gogolak kicking brothers. (Pete is with the New York Giants). "I get some funny looks because I am not working so hard. But what can I do? I can't go out and run at half-back or do pass patterns. I am a specialist. I never play. I made one tackle in college in my sophomore year against Cornell. "I can't wait for the games to start. No matter how you cut it, you still have to prove yourself under game conditions. It gets monotonous waiting. I'd like to be out there doing something."

At Princeton, Charlie set seven NCAA records. Last year he kicked a 54-yarder against Cornell against a human pyramid, since outlawed. He kicked six in one game against Rutgers and broke his brother's record with 50 consecutive extra points.

The Skins count on No. 3 to put that 3-pointer on the scoreboard when the bell rings. They don't care if he never gets that uniform dirty.

MORE LIKE GAMES IN A SANDPILE

MIAMI (AP) — Judges and attorneys broke ground for a new Bar Association building here a short time ago — at least they said they did.

The ceremonies were held on a paved parking lot which is to give way to the building. They couldn't really break the ground, so a pile of sand was trucked in to give the shovel-wielders something to dig in.

Trading Is Brisk in Pro Football

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
It was a hang-'em-up, bang-'em-up, cut-'em-loose day in professional football. The trade winds whipped up briefly, too.

The Boston Patriots announced Tuesday that veteran outside linebacker Mike Dukas has decided to hang up his gear. No reason for his retirement was given.

Most of the players cut loose were rookies, but most of those being cut were veterans—among them the New York Giants' Tucker Frederickson, the National Football League's sixth leading rusher last season. One non-rookie cut was Any Nelson, a nine-year, NFL veteran, put on waivers by the new Atlanta Falcons.

Four NFL teams were active on the trading mart. Green Bay traded veteran defensive end Lloyd Voss and rookie end Tony Jeter of Nebraska to Pittsburgh for an undisclosed high draft choice, and Los Angeles dealt a future draft pick to Philadelphia for rookie punter Jerald Circo from Chico State.

On the salary front, defensive end Darris McCord, a 12-year NFL veteran, walked into the Detroit Lions' camp and signed, while Hank Gremminger, a 10-year NFL player, walked out of the Dallas Cowboys' camp over a salary dispute. The defensive back was traded to the Cowboys by Green Bay last June.

Other signings included veteran tight end Ron Kramer by Detroit and offensive tackle Roger Kramer, a four-year veteran of the Canadian Football League, by the NFL Minnesota Vikings. Kramer had been practicing with the Lions without a contract.

Dukas, who also played with Houston in 1960 when that club won the American Football League title, and the New York Jets, made his decision known to Patriots Coach Mike Holovak via telephone.

HOPE (ARK.) STAR. Printed by Offset

Nelson, 33, joined the Falcons as a free agent. He last played for the New York Giants after being an all-NFL defensive back with Baltimore in 1958-59.

Frederickson, a fullback, strained his left knee during a heavy scrimmage. The full extent of the injury was not known immediately.

Drivers, Not Cars, Target for Safety

LONDON (AP) — A few countries are moving to legislate more safety into the motor car, but in most the accent is on educating the driver and pedestrian.

Grim statistics on highway fatalities are not exclusive to the United States. The automobile explosion in other nations has brought with it an accompanying rise in traffic accidents and growing concern with safety problems.

The U.S. Congress is considering a wide-ranging bill to establish mandatory safety features in new automobiles, and the government has already set standards, beginning with 1967 models, for cars it will buy.

In other nations, an Associated Press survey shows, the automobile boom is a comparatively recent development and the stress has been more on driver and pedestrian education than on legislation.

In Japan, where streets already were crowded with pedestrians and bicyclists, the number of passenger cars quintupled during the five-year period from 1950 to 1955. And in a number of European countries, the number of vehicles almost doubled during the same period.

Even though the United States led the world in the total number of traffic fatalities last year, statistically it appears better off than some other nations.

The United States had some 91.3 million vehicles registered last year and about 49,000 highway deaths. West Germany, with only about one-tenth of the number of cars, had 15,710 fatalities.

Japan, with 2.2 million passenger cars in 1965, had a total of 12,475 fatalities. About one-fourth of those were pedestrians and another fourth were motorcyclists.

John Tye, controller of the British Safety Council, claims most accidents in Britain are due to lack of driving discipline.

"British drivers are probably the most courteous in the world," he said, "but apart from in Hong Kong I have never encountered such hazards as on British roads due chiefly to lack of lane discipline."

The British Parliament is studying a bill to make seat belts compulsory on new models.

The Victoria state government in Australia is considering requiring a dual braking system and a recessed dashboard.

Rep. Trimble Wins; Pryor Leads 4th

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Rep. David Pryor of Camden led the ticket in Tuesday's 4th District Democratic congressional primary as vote counting continued today.

Pryor's probable runoff opponent was Richard Arnold of Texarkana although Dean Murphy of Texarkana and Charles Honey of Prescott had slight hopes of overtaking him in late returns.

The three incumbent Congressmen—Reps. E. C. Gathings in the 1st District, Wilbur Mills in the 2nd District and J. W. Trimble in the 3rd District won their primary contests without difficulty.

Pryor, Arnold, Murphy, Honey and John Harris Jones of Pine Bluff staged a vigorous race for the 4th District seat vacated by the retirement of Rep. Oren Harris last February.

They competed in two primaries simultaneously—a special primary to select a nominee for Harris' unexpired term and a regular primary for a full term.

The vote was lighter in the special primary but it followed the same trend and the regular voting.

Gathings was opposed by Lee Ward of Jonesboro, a former chancery judge and a 1958 candidate for governor. Ward criticized Gathings' conservatism. Gathings ignored Ward.

Mills also ignored his two opponents, Jack Eardley, a psychiatrist, and Arthur Mills a businessman, both of Little Rock.

Like his colleagues, Trimble did not campaign actively. His opponents were David Burleson of Fayetteville, a state representative, and Jim Evans of Hot Springs, a businessman.

The vote in the congressional races:

1st District: 478 of 536 precincts: Gathings 44,236 Ward 28,906.

2nd District: 425 of 686 precincts: Wilbur Mills 10,343, and Eardley 8,837. Arthur Mills 5,249.

Bill Holden Accident Kills Man

PISA, Italy (AP) — A car driven by American movie actor William Holden crashed into the rear of another car Tuesday night and the Italian driver of the other car was killed, Pisa police reported today.

Holden, 48, and two sisters with him — Sara and Susan West of New York — were not hurt. The actor said they were daughters of friends who are staying at Montecatini, a nearby spa. He said he was driving them to Viareggio, a seaside resort.

Police said Holden's car hit the rear of a small car about 10:15 p.m. near Pisa on a superhighway from Florence to the Ligurian seacoast. The small car hurtled into another lane and overturned.

Holden, however, said the other car veered into his from the left and then overturned.

The only occupant, Giorgio Valerio, 42, of Prato, Italy, died en route to a hospital.

The Pisa police impounded Holden's car, the usual procedure in a fatal accident. They said they would make a report to an investigating judge who will decide whether any charges will be filed.

Holden announced in 1963 that he and his wife, former actress Brenda Marshall, had separated. They had been married for 25 years and have two sons, 22 and 20 years old.

Eight years ago, Holden left the United States to live in Switzerland. He has wide business interests, including a chain of 11 hotels and lodges in Kenya, a radio station in Hong Kong and an electronic company in Japan.

U.S. to Halt Spread of Air Strike

By NEIL GILBRIDE
AP Labor Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House announced that President Johnson will set up an emergency board today to postpone for 60 days a threatened strike against American Airlines by members of the Transport Workers Union.

In the absence of such action, union members would have been free to strike at 12:01 a.m.

The announcement came shortly before a Senate committee started hearing testimony on a 20-day strike against five other airlines, to determine whether legislation is needed to force a settlement.

Bill D. Moyers, White House press secretary, said Johnson would sign an executive order creating the three-member board in advance of the strike deadline. He said the names of board members would be announced within 24 hours.

Under the National Railway Labor Act, the board will study the issues between the airline and the union and within 30 days submit recommendations aimed at promoting a compromise.

Another 30-day period will follow in which parties to the dispute will be free to study the board's findings and, perhaps, negotiate an agreement.

That procedure already has been completed without settlement of the strike of the AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists against five airlines.

Feild Beats Strech; Byers Odom Run-Off

State Representative Talbot Field, Jr., barely turned back the challenge of Arthur L. Strech, and County Judge Orle Byers led the field for re-election but was forced into a runoff with Finis Odom — in Tuesday's Democratic primary election which saw 5,078 votes polled for governor.

Mrs. Pat McCain won handily over Ernest Ridgill in the county clerk's race, 3,839 to 1,317.

In the state representative's contest complete unofficial returns gave Feild 2,610 to 2,489 for Strech.

For county judge the vote was: Byers 2,057; Odom 1,796; Guy Grigg 1,357.

The county went for Bill Arnold of Texarkana for Eighth circuit judge, 3,245 to 1,677 for Ted Goldman, also of Texarkana.

Bill Denman, Jr., of Prescott, captured the county vote for prosecuting attorney of the Eighth circuit, 2,561 to 2,399 for W. H. (Dub) Arnold of Arkadelphia.

Hempstead went overwhelmingly for two native sons, James H. Pilkinton for lieutenant-governor, and Kelly Bryant, seeking re-election as secretary of state.

Former Supreme Court Justice Jim Johnson swept the county for governor, Bruce Bennett was favored for re-election as attorney general, and J. Fred Jones, Bruce T. Bullion, and Tom their respective for the state supreme court.

Congressman, J. W. Trimble had a top-heavy vote for the Third District congress seat, and Senator John L. McClellan was handed a landslide vote for re-election.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Rep. David Pryor stepped smartly in front of a class five-man field in the 4th Congressional District Tuesday night as the vote count from the Democratic primary neared the halfway point.

Competition for the second spot on the runoff ticket was between Richard Arnold and Dean Murphy, both of Texarkana.

Charles Honey of Prescott and John Harris Jones of Pine Bluff dropped far behind as ballot counting passed the halfway point.
